International Summer School, University of Oslo
June 20 – July 31, 2020

Dear University Partner,

It is a pleasure for us to send you University of Oslo's brochure for The International Summer School 2020.

We offer 14 Bachelor's courses focusing mainly on Norwegian language, culture and society, and 7 Master's courses on topics of broad international interest. The courses adopt a comparative perspective, where the Norwegian case may serve as a basis for future dialogue and discussion. All our courses offer ECTS credit points.

We welcome applicants from your university, and kindly ask you to announce the ISS to your students. From December 4, interested candidates can apply through our online application system to be found on our webpage uio.no/summerschool/admission.

We also offer a limited number of partial and full scholarships. Students who are self-financed, sponsored by their home institution, or only dependent on a partial scholarship have better chances of admission than students who apply for full scholarships.

The application deadline for qualified scholarship applicants is February 1, 2020. The deadline for qualified self-financed/sponsored applicants is March 1.

The International Summer School (ISS) at the University of Oslo has offered intensive summer courses since 1947. Around 30,000 students from more than 150 countries have attended our program. In 2019, the ISS welcomed 500 students from 85 different countries to six intensive weeks of learning both inside and outside the classroom. As in earlier years, the evaluations from students and staff alike were very positive, giving testimony of six weeks of academic achievement combined with a rich social environment and activities program.

Further information about the application process and the program itself, as well as about scholarships, can be found in the ISS 2020 brochure and on our website www.uio.no/summerschool

If you would like further information, more posters or brochures, please do not hesitate to contact us at (+47) 22 85 63 85 or iss@admin.uio.no.

Sincerely yours,

Nita Kapoor
Director
