Network Engineer

Group Information Technology: IT Infrastructure Planning & Operations

The Job

- Design and implement Data Centre and user network solutions to ensure maximum network security.
- Manage LAN / WAN infrastructure, Proxy systems, wireless networks, Operational and InfoSec related scopes.
- Maintain L2 / L3 Switches, Routers, Wireless Infrastructure to achieve maximum up time.
- Providing daily network access requirements / configuration for Data Centre and End User on network devices.
- Required to be on 24x7 operational support when required for troubleshooting & solution implementation of network solutions.
- Analyze and optimize Network architecture to enhance current network to cater new requirements with optimal performance and reliability.
- Introducing new technologies related to network security to optimize the current system.
- Identify common network threats and troubleshooting.
- Being knowledgeable of current and commonly practiced network security terms for optimization strategies and new security trends.
- Responsible for documentation / update and configurations of network to fulfil varied documentation requirements.
- Act as the PM for active / passive network projects carried out by IT Network team to deliver projects effectively.

The Person

- The candidate should possess a Degree in IT / Telecommunication from a recognized university or institute.
- Minimum of 3 years work experience out of which at least 2 years in a similar capacity.
- Should be a flexible / fast learner and able to work in an Agile working environment.
- Possess hands on experience and knowledge in telecommunication / network security developments & management / Network architecture deployment including connectivity methods.

If you possess the required attributes and are competent in carrying out the scope of work detailed above, please email your CV to careers@dialog.lk mentioning the position applied for in the subject line OR visit our website www.dialog.lk/careers and click on the "Apply Now" button within 10 days of this advertisement.

Dialog

www.dialog.lk